

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

July was the busiest month the hotel on Mount Mansfield has ever had.

Mrs. S. E. Tracey of Burlington has a pullet which, at the age of four months and three days, began laying eggs. Mrs. Tracey thinks the pullet a wonder.

Harold S. Card of North Adams, Mass., a graduate of Williams college and an all-around athlete, has been engaged as principal of the junior-senior high school at Townshend.

John and Calvin Coolidge, son of Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge, who have been passing the early part of the summer visiting their grandfather at Plymouth, have now joined their parents on a trip to the Pacific coast.

John Colomb of Elmore is the owner of a young freak chicken which has two feet on the left leg. The other leg and foot is natural. The chick hops about on its right pedal extremity and seems quite likely to survive despite its deformity.

R. M. Wilcomb has been selected as town manager for Springfield in place of John B. Wright, resigned, but the acceptance of the position by Mr. Wilcomb depends upon his disposal of his mercantile business in Springfield so that he can devote his entire time to the town manager position.

The upper part of the residence of Mrs. Nina Wheeler in Wilmington was destroyed by fire and the contents were damaged last Thursday. Mrs. Wheeler was awakened by a crackling noise and thought at first that a boarder had started a fire in the stove. She investigated and found the upper part of the structure in flames. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

TOPSHAM

Mr. and Mrs. John Hood of Arlington, Mass., are visiting relatives in town.

ORANGE COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Notes for Week Ending Aug. 5.

The members of Orange county farm bureau will no doubt be interested in noting that Miss Ruth L. Bond and County Agent H. A. Dwinell were married on Aug. 1 at the Congregational church at Thetford Hill. If the beauty and charm of the ceremony be taken as an indication, there will indeed be a successful married life.

The activities of the eastern states feed pool in this county opened with a meeting at Bradford on Thursday afternoon at which Manager H. W. Selby of the eastern states farmers' exchange was the speaker. With the tremendous volume of business which is flowing toward the pool in other countries, we can hardly expect other than success here.

The livestock shipping contracts are coming in slowly, more attention should be given to the return of these contracts of these contracts to this office by the members who ship via C. V. railway.

Plans are developing for a rousing field day at Tunbridge on Aug. 17. Good speakers are assured, as H. C. McKenzie, tax expert of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and O. H. Benson, manager of the boys' and girls' clubs, Eastern States League, are to be present. Demonstrations by boys' and girls' clubs will be program features, as will also the presence of tractors and tractor equipment, and a good baseball game. See the posters and advertisements regarding the free ice cream.

Take your lunch and get to Tunbridge on Aug. 17.

W. L. Taplin, executive secretary.
